FAMOUS
Indiana Dahlias

—O—
THIS LITTLE CATALOG
PRESENTS
EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITIES FOR THOSE WITH GREAT LOVE OF FLOWERS AND LITTLE MONEY
—O—

My Garden, with its silence and the pulses of fragrance that come and go on the airy undulations, affects me like sweet music. Care stops at the gates, and gazes at me wistfully through the bars. Among my flowers and trees, Nature takes me into her own hands, and I breathe freely as the first man.

—Alexander Smith

We Cordially Invite You To Come
And View The Dahlias In Bloom;
Presenting the Largest Selection Of Dahlias
To Be Found Anywhere.

Life is like a journey
 Taken on a train,
With a pair of travelers
 At each windowpane.
I may sit beside you
 All the journey through;
Or, I may sit elsewhere
 Never knowing you.
But, if Fate should mark me
 To sit at your side,
Let's be pleasant travelers—
 It's so short a ride!

—Charles Allen Branham.

Welcome For 1938

To those ordering this season for the first time, we bid you—WELCOME!! We hope you will be as well pleased as some who have been with us for more than twenty years, continuously.

To the latter, we can only show our greatest appreciation for their many favors during the past years and hope they enjoy an equally long line of years to come. It makes us feel inexpressibly sad whenever we get a catalog returned to us marked 'Addressee deceased.' We know we all must eventually pass on, but it seems, nevertheless, a terrible wrench from those and what we loved here.

Let us impress upon you, especially if you are a beginner, that the price of a dahlia does not indicate its real worth. There are hundreds of dahlias on the market at 50c, or even 25c, which are far superior to the average high-priced sorts. All worthy new introductions are, naturally, highly priced; but when, after two or three years, they are still held at a fairly high price it is a general indication, not that they are so very desirable, but that they have some great fault which prevents their becoming plentiful enough to be sold at a lower price.

Don't over fertilize!! If you want over-sized exhibition blooms it will pay you to do so, for the sake of getting a prize. But whenever you do force your dahlias you are running a risk of producing weak (though large) roots, which have a tendency to rot over winter. For exhibition blooms, if your soil needs fertilizer, use cow manure (not to touch the root or plant, however), or sheep manure, or a well-balanced commercial fertilizer at or before planting time worked into the soil. In the summer, when buds appear, broadcast a phosphate of some kind, and work into soil.

Many dahlias are planted that never come up because they are drowned; don't water at all unless your soil is very dry, before the bloom-buds start, then you may water copiously. Should it become necessary to water before blooming, soak the soil, then when dry enough, fine the top soil again with a rake or other tool. Never sprinkle Dahlias.

Dahlia Do's and Dont's

DON'T

- Plant in dense shade.
- Plant too close to trees or buildings.
- Plant before frost is out of the ground.
- Pull up the clump at digging time.
- Divide the clump until the eyes begin to sprout.
- Let the tubers dry out and shrivel up over the winter.

DO

- Cultivate.
- Prevent insects with good insecticide (Black Leaf 40 or other mixtures).
- Clean up the garden in the fall. Burn the rubbish. This will destroy all grubs and cut worms.
- Cut off a portion of the stem with the tuber when you divide.
- Examine the roots during the winter.
- Help your dahlias and they will help themselves.

Very Important--Read All

Be sure to read your catalog throughout; it will pay you.

Our roots are especially hardy and rugged, because they are grown in poor soil, without fertilizer or stimulant of any kind. That is why they will grow well and produce profusely wherever planted, in any soil or climatic conditions, whereas, the ordinary roots sent out are grown in rich soil, well fertilized (to produce large clumps) and these produce weak growth and little or no bloom; also, poor roots. Our prices are no higher than the others, why not be sure and get the best. We guarantee our roots.

Our plants are the best and hardiest possible to be had. We take only heel or base cuttings (no top cuttings whatever) from hardy stock. These are grown in cool conditions making them stocky, vigorous, sure to grow and produce. If we produced them like some growers, under forcing conditions, we could produce three or four times the number of plants from the same stock; consequently could make more money at half the price. But, the customer would suffer.

Don't plant your tubers too early. Find out when corn-planting time is in your locality and plant then or later. Do not have your dahlia roots forwarded to you until planting time. We have never made it a practice to exhibit our dahlias in any competition. To do so, we would be compelled to practice high fertilizing, etc., in methods which we do not want to do. As we do not exhibit, we cannot claim prize-winning of any kind. We leave that to our customers, and the 20 odd years of successful business we have experienced proves that our customers are well satisfied. We have hundreds of personal letters telling of their successes in competition. Our vigorous roots pave the way to successful competition.

Our catalog contains the result of 25 years testing of the 10,000 or more different varieties of dahlias originated. We have, during that time, bought thousands of different varieties, which after testing were found wanting and discarded. We follow the same practice today; if a variety is found undesirable, no matter how famous or how many Honor Rolls, etc., it has taken (such, for instance, as American Legion) we discard it. We do not want to fool our customers, no matter how much profit there may be in it. We keep our cellars at a very cool temperature. This prevents the loss of vitality in roots; keeps them firm and full-strengthened. Consequently, no sprouts will appear until after April 1st to 15th; we cannot supply sprouted dahlias before then. However, each tuber will have one or more good eyes. If dahlias are sent out after May 1st, some may have fairly long sprouts on them. As it is not good to plant these sprouts, we generally cut them back. Don't think, if you receive a root with sprout cut off, that it is one we have taken 'slips' from; we never send out any roots which have been on the propagating bench.

When ordering, be sure to tell us when planting time (same as corn planting time) occurs in your locality.

Our Own Introductions For 1938

It has become a habit with some dahlia buyers to order only Achievement Medal, Honor Roll, etc., dahlias. Our experience has been that most of these are poor performers: either weak in growth, bloom or root. A dahlia to deserve such honor should be tried out in every way and proven good for the general public, instead of giving it the honors on a bloom which has been grown in a highly cultured method, by experienced growers.

Our introductions have not been sent to Trial Grounds, nor Exhibition Halls, They have been tried out under ordinary culture and care such as the veriest amateur would give them, thus proving their extreme worthiness and superiority in bloom, growth and root-making. Such honored varieties as, for instance, American Legion, Kaweah and others, while elephantine in size, are absolutely worthless for the average grower as he can do nothing with them.

We are introducing a few new varieties this season, all tried and found "true" and satisfactory in every way. Here they are:

TENDER MEMORIES, this is best described as a light mauve or orchid Kathleen Norris, in color, size and type. Has far better stems, blooms more freely, a much stronger growth and an excellent clump of roots. It is outstanding in every way. Plants are $5.00, roots $10.00.

ROYAL SCARLET is a Formal Decorative 8 to 10 inches in diameter, and 6 inches deep, owing to the recurving of the petals almost to the stem. It is a brilliant deep scarlet, with reverse of petals ivory. Has good habits and merits every honor. Plants, $5.00, Roots, $10.00.

WAR ADMIRAL is an Informal Decorative of giant size and has all good qualities; will satisfy the hard to please with its orange bronze coloring, shading out to a golden buff. You can't miss this one at the low price of $1.25 per plant, $2.50 per root.

OLD IVORY will please you and reward you as well, if you like a Formal Decorative 8 to 10 inches across and 4 inches deep. It is a pure Old Ivory in color, and has no faults. Plants, $1.50; Roots, $3.00.

ANNUNCIATION, another new one, has same form, size and habits as Jane Cowl, but the color is pure gold shading to a burnt orange center. If you have grown Jane Cowl, you know how satisfactory this one will be. Plants, 75c; Roots, $1.50.

PHOENIX, is a difficult variety to describe. We call it an Informal Decorative, size about 9x5 inches, and the colors are: a burnt orange face and maroon lake reverse to each petal. Imagine such coloring! You will like it's blooming traits, too. Plants are $2.50; Roots, $5.00.

All of our Introductions are sold on a Money-Back Guarantee to please.

Be fair with your grower or dealer; certain seasons or localities cause variations in the dahlia flower. Be sure you are right, then report if a mistake has been made.

What Others Think Of Our Dahlias:

Each succeeding year we receive more and more appreciative letters from pleased customers. That's what makes life worth living, and helps us like our work. Below are a few of the many letters received last season—full names and addresses furnished cheerfully upon request.

A friend in Woodruff, S. C., writes: "I'm delighted to tell you that my Jersey's Beauty dahlias were lovely this year. Your stock of tubers are by far the best I've ever been able to buy. I have never had a tuber from you which failed to sprout. Also, I wish to thank you for the premium roots. They were fine, particularly a lovely yellow of which you gave me six roots."

And from Marion, Kentucky, a customer writes: "It may be interesting to you to know that your World's Best White won first prize at our County Fair this year as the best bloom in the show; your Rose Glory won second. I've been growing dahlias for pleasure for twenty years, but didn't win a thing in that class. Possibly if I had bought bulbs from you, I might have had better luck."

A. V. L., from Dallas, Texas, tells us: "We think you are the most prompt, courteous, generous and squarest mail order house we have ever dealt with."

And from Weatherford, Texas, Mrs. S. J. L. writes: "I was certainly pleased with the dahlia bulbs which I ordered from you last year. Despite the terrible drought we had here, my dahlias bloomed profusely and I won Five blue ribbons and two reds at the County Fair here on them."

From Chattanooga, Tennessee: "The dahlias I received from you last Spring were lovely, and I want to show my appreciation. They were all you said they would be and all I hoped they would be."

Flower Growing is not only a pastime for children and grandmothers; but is also real up-lifting recreation for the man or woman who has monotonous, dreary tasks to perform throughout the day.

A house is built of bricks and stones, of sills, and posts, and piers;

But home is built of loving deeds that stand a thousand years.

A house, though but an humble cot within its walls may hold

A home of priceless beauty rich in Love's eternal gold.

Controlling Insect and Disease Pests

Plant diseases are of many kinds. Some, such as mildew, leafspot and rust attack leaves. Others, as fire blight, damage branches and stems of plants. Some, such as root rot, waylay the plant at the roots. Some diseases such as mosaic seem to disturb plant life processes in some way, no one is sure as to just how. These diseases are spread by various agencies as soil, wind, insects, contact, seed, tools shoes of the gardener and birds.

Some of the better known ways of controlling various diseases, depending upon their characteristics, are by spraying, dusting, seed treatment, soil disinfection, rotation, planting on new and clean ground, breeding resistant strains, destroying infected portions or crop residues.

INSECT PESTS

Insects are of two general kinds, chewing and sucking. The first, such as leaf-eating beetles, grasshoppers, and caterpillars, eat tissues or leaves and are controlled by a stomach poison applied to the plants. The most satisfactory poisons are lead arsenate and calcium arsenate. Various others in common use are paris green and hellebore.

Sucking insects pierce the leaves or other covering and suck the plant juices from within, so they must be killed by some contact poison which kills by its burning action, poisoning through the breathing apparatus or by suffocation. Among these insects are thrips, aphids, scales and mealy-bugs. The chief contact insecticides are nicotine sulphate, nicotine dust, laundry soap, pyrethrum powder, dusting sulphur, lime sulphur, glue, kerosene, kerosene emulsion, lubricating oil emulsion and miscible oils.

For control of insects and plant diseases, much the simplest procedure in the average sized home garden (ornamental or vegetable) is to go to the local dealer who specializes in garden supplies, buy the chemicals needed in prepared form under trade names and use these according to the manufacturer's directions. Be sure, of course, to read labels and directions on package before buying. Buy nationally advertised goods of known effectiveness when possible. Also arm yourself with printed literature. Much can be done indirectly in controlling pests. Keep down weeds that serve as plant hosts. Pick off diseased leaves or cut out diseased limbs. Pick up fallen leaves that are diseased. Pull out wilted down plants. Clean up fence rows and mow adjacent vacant lots that might harbor both insects and host plants of diseases.

In the fall clean up and destroy any tops or residue in border or vegetable garden that might harbor pests. A good control is to spade ground in the fall, and let it lie unraked until spring. Sun, wind, cold and birds together will destroy many insects this way.

During the growing season keep a daily watch on your plants. Don't wait until they are heavily infested to get busy. Dust or spray at first appearance of a pest and, with especially dangerous pests, before you see any, as a sound preventative.

Dusting is superceding spraying for much control work and, for the home gardener, dusting is much more convenient. A small hand duster can be obtained in various sizes and styles, ranging from $1.25 up. For spraying, a small fruit jar container type will suffice for average home use.

SOME COMMON CONTROL FORMULAS

Formula 1—Aphids—Make spray by dissolving 1 ounce or 1/3 bar laundry soap in a gallon of hot water and mixing in 1½ teaspoonfuls of nicotine sulphate. Soap and water often give good control. Spray on cloudy day or late afternoon. Give another application in a week. Aphids attack chrysanthemums, beans, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, currants, muskmelon, peas, potatoes, roses, spinach, tomatoes, columbines, calendulas, cinerarias, cosmos, delphiniums and snapdragons.

Formula 2—Cutworms and Grasshoppers—

Use the following:

Bran	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1 quart
Paris green	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1 level teaspoonful
Ground orange or lemon			-	-	-	-	-	½
Sirup (Cheap table)	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	2 teaspoonfuls
Water	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1 pint

Mix bran and paris green dry. Stir it and finely ground fruit into the water. Pour the sweetened liquid over the poisoned bran and mix thoroughly. Apply thinly where insects are feeding. Apply in evening or early morning for grasshoppers. Apply in evening for cutworms. For cutworms, it can be placed under pieces of board or bark in small piles. Keep away from chickens. Repeat in three days if necessary.

Formula 3—Red Spider—Spray with considerable force, using a mixture of 1 pound of ordinary glue dissolved in 10 gallons of water. This spider attacks evergreens, roses, raspberry plants and various other shrubs and trees.

Formula 4—Bordeaux Mixture—This is the most widely used chemical for control of diseases and occasionally against insects. It is made by combining copper sulphate, hydrated lime and water, the proportions usually given as a formula as 4-6-50. Various college bulletins give directions as to making this in quantity, but for use by the average small home owner it is preferable to buy commercial formulas already mixed or ready to mix with water. Bordeaux mixture has many uses in addition to those given in the table following, for which see books and bulletins.

Formula 5—Dusting Sulphur—Fine dusting sulphur, (not ordinary sulphur) is used alone for rust and mildew on many plants. A mixture of 90 parts dusting sulphur and 10 parts dry arsenate of lead is widely used for mildew, slugs, blackspot and leaf blotch on roses.

Formula 6—Copper Lime Dust—By combining 20 parts monohydrated copper sulphate and 80 parts fresh hydrated lime, a dust has been put on the market which when combined with dew makes the equivalent of bordeaux mixture. This is now used for leafspot on chrysanthemums, ivy, phlox and zinnias, for botrytis rot on primroses and begonias, for anthracnose on pinks and for other diseases.

Formula 7—Miscible Oils—These oils, readily purchased at any supply store, are used as dormant sprays, just before growth begins in spring, on evergreens, deciduous trees and shrubs to control aphids, soft scale insects and mites.

JOIN THE

AMERICAN DAHLIA SOCIETY

We invite our friends and customers to join the American Dahlia Society and become a part of this great National organization whose interest is devoted solely to the improvement of the Dahlia.

The Quarterly Bulletin—a real Dahlia Magazine—gives all the up to date Dahlia news, information about, and illustrations of new varieties, the latest cultural hints and is a real worth while guide to any lover of Dahlias. The Bulletin alone is worth many times the cost of the annual dues.

Trial Gardens are maintained at Connecticut College, Storrs, Connecticut, and The Michigan Agricultural College, East Lansing, Michigan, where new varieties are tested and scored each year. A test garden is also maintained at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, for research work on insect and disease control. Full reports from all these gardens are published from time to time.

Dahlia "fans" in every state of the Union and many foreign countries are members and frequently contribute news to the Bulletin. Membership includes admission, and the privilege of exhibiting at all our National exhibitions which are held each September in some National center.

KUNZMAN'S DAHLIAS

GROWING OLD

*A little more tired at the close of the day;
A little less anxious to have our way;
A little less ready to scold and blame;
A little more care of a brother's name;
And so we are nearing the journey's end
Where time and eternity meet and blend.*

*A little less care for bonds and gold,
A little more zest in the days of old,
A broader view and a saner mind,
And a little more love for all mankind;
And so we are faring a-down the way
That leads to the gates of a better day.*

*A little more love for the friends of youth,
A little less zeal for an established truth,
A little more charity in our views,
A little less thirst for the daily news;
And so we are folding our tents away
And passing in silence at close of day.*

*A little more leisure to sit and dream,
A little more real the things unseen,
A little nearer to those ahead,
With visions of those long-loved and dead;
And so we are going to where all must go,
To the place the living may never know.*

*A little more laughter, a few more tears,
And we shall have told our increasing years;
The book is closed and the prayers are said,
And we are a part of the countless dead.
Thrice happy, then, if some soul can say:
"I lived because he has passed my way."*

Rollin J. Wells.

*A bit of ground, to tinker 'round,
A little patch, to dig and scratch,
A rake and hoe, to make things grow,
Some flowers blue, a babe or two—
What's left to want? I ask of you!*

—Fred Smidley.
